PROFILE: Joe Hathaway

How long have you been working for Bencardino?
Seven years.

What do you do for them?
Site foreman.

What made you get into this business?
I worked in auto body for 12 years. At first I was working on new cars but that got really boring. Then I began working on older cars. I had done some painting on some of the trucks for Lou and when I was looking to settle down and get married I wanted something more steady. I went to Lou and asked him to let me work as one of his laborers. Eventually after working in with the crew and being trained by a few of the guys I moved up to Site Foreman.

What do you do in your free time?
I bought a house 4 years ago with my wife and we spent 9 months renovating the first floor doing the electrical and sanitary and then the basement. Now I am working on the 2nd floor. I gutted it with the help of friends and my father in-law. My two kids, Ali and JJ, help too.

Looking forward to completion?
Yeah, I love to go outside and play soccer with my kids. They're great. In the summer we go to Sea Isle and take a boat out fishing.

Do you have any other hobbies aside from home renovation?
I love the Phillies. Every other year I travel to a different stadium to see them.

Which stadiums have you been to?
Seven. Florida, Chicago, Washington, Baltimore (twice), Philadelphia. This year will be St. Louis.

Which is your favorite?
Citizens. I worked on the electrical there when it was being built so I got to see the whole thing go up. I really enjoy what I do.

HOME DIRT

Processes

Were coming back to the busy months of the year. It's important to keep an eye on each other in trenches and not to leave anyone alone in a trench. Also Make sure that operators are stock piling dirt a proper distance away from trenches.

Progress

We just purchased a new CAT 345CL Excavator and a Volvo 30 ton articulating dump truck.
